OAM Quick Start

Technology has provided organizations with new opportunities to share information with employees, customers and supply chain partners. At the same time, technology has increased the vulnerability of organizations to fraud and liability and has heightened management and customer concerns about information security. Oracle addresses these opportunities and challenges with a complete application access management solution.

Oracle Access Manager allows users of your applications or IT systems to log-in once and gain access to a broad range of IT resources. Oracle Access Manager provides an identity management and access control system that is shared by all your applications. The result is a centralized and automated single sign-on solution for managing who has access to what information across your entire IT infrastructure.

Zirous's identity management team includes CISSP staff with hundreds of successful implementations. Our team has experience with security policy, network and application security, management and operational security practices, and access control systems. We can tailor an identity management solution to maximize your investments.
